WELCOME TO PRINCE RUPERT
Imagine fresh air fills your lungs and sea spray salts your lips; wild eyes silently watch & the only sound is the dip of your paddle. This is the North Coast and these are a few of the experiences it has to offer. The north coast was one of the last parts of the New World to be explored by Europeans, it was only 160 years ago that fur traders took up residence in this area, soon followed by gold seekers traveling the Skeena River. Northwest Coast nations are best known for their monumental art and you will see numerous towering totems in Prince Rupert and throughout the region. Often, as impressive as the poles, is the commanding backdrop of their original locations. Prince Rupert is the center of some of the world's most remarkable Aboriginal cultures. The Tsimshian Nation is the indigenous First Nations in the Prince Rupert area - their traditional territory extending south to Kitasoo, north to the mouth of the Nass River and up the Skeena River just east of Terrace. Today, the communities of Metlakatla, Lax Kw'alaams (Port Simpson), Metlakatla Alaska, Gitksaahla (Kitkatla), Gitga'ata (Hartley Bay), Kitasoo (Klemtu), Kitselas, and Kitsumkalum are still vital Tsimshian villages. Nearly half of Prince Rupert's population is descended from First Nations, and most are of Tsimshian, Nisga's or Haida heritage. On the North Coast as in Europe, geography separated people & a rich tapestry of distinct cultural groups emerged. More than a dozen First Nations communities are close & easy to reach from Prince Rupert. Within a three hour drive are eleven First Nations communities in Tsimshian, Nisga's, Gitksan and Wet'Suwet'en traditional territories. Many of the most famous Northwest coast artists live and work in Prince Rupert and you will find original sculpture, prints and jewelry throughout the region and possibly observe artists at work.

BECAUSE WE CARE, NCL URGES YOU TO SANITIZE YOUR HANDS WHEN RETURNING TO THE VESSEL.
